GLARE AT EACH OTHER

Excitement and Anxiety Exist Over Anglo-Russian Contention.

GOT BEYOND WALDERSEE'S CONTROL

Lion Roars and Shows His Claws But Bear Growls and Shows His Teeth. Russians are Under Orders to Shoot if Work is Attempted.

Tien Tsin, March 19.—Excitement and anxiety here as to the possible developments of the Anglo-Russian siding dispute do not abate. A company of British troops and a company of Russian soldiers remain encamped on either side of the trench, looking at each other. The Russians have orders to fire on any one commencing work.

General Wogack says the trouble was caused by the unwarrantable interference of the British in the affairs of the Russian concession, and he adds that the siding will not be continued unless he receives orders from his own superiors to recede.

Field Marshal von Waldersee is expected here. Both sides will appeal to him, but they both consider the matter to be beyond his authority, and he will await orders from Europe.

Speaking of the attack made by a number of excited French soldiers on some members of the British Sikh regiment, Sunday, General Lorne-Campbell says it was merely a childish outbreak against the orders of their own general, who had forbidden the French soldiers to enter the British concession. This order followed a request made by General Lorne-Campbell after almost every resident had complained of the French in insulting women, refusing to pay for purchases, acting riotously, and abusing American and English soldiers.

General Voyron, the French commander, recognized that this must stop, and ordered the French soldiers to keep in their own concession. General Lorne-Campbell was perfectly satisfied that General Voyron was in harmony with him and anxious to keep order.

Major Foote of the Ninth United States Infantry says the French soldiers were frequently abusive to American troops who were unarmed while out on pass, while the French were armed with swords or bayonets. On one occasion an American disarmed a Frenchman and turned over his weapon to the sergeant of the guard, explaining satisfactorily his reasons for the action taken. Major Foote said that sooner or later the British must act in interest of the concession.

General Voyron says there is no friction between the French and British. The incident of Sunday was regrettable, was caused by a few excitable men, and has no connection whatever with any feeling individual Frenchmen may hold in favor of the Russian claims in connection with the land on which it was proposed to build the railroad siding.

CONFLICT EXPECTED.

Report That French Soldiers Also Tantalize the British.

New York, March 19.—A dispatch from Tien Tsin says: The Russian general, Wogack, has declined a compromise suggested by Count von Waldersee. The tension here is increasing and a conflict may be expected at any moment. The troops of all nations are under arms. The situation at the railway station remains the same, although the temper of the hostile troops is, if possible, more disquieting than before.

French troops are taking part in the trouble, despite the efforts of their officers to maintain a neutral attitude. Many groups of French ran through the British settlement shouting, "Down with the English!" and a number of fights took place, several ending in bloodshed, as the French always carry sidearms. Finally three French soldiers attacked Captain Bogles of the British army and pulled him out of his rickshaw. The captain defended himself with his fists and had knocked down a number of his assailants, when a number of Sikhs came to his rescue. General Campbell then turned out all his troops, drove the French out and set pickets around the settlement, with orders to admit no French soldiers to the concession.

CLAIM IT IS SETTLED.

British Papers are Letting Themselves Down Gently.

London, March 19.—Some of the afternoon newspapers say the Tien Tsin difficulty has been arranged, and claim that the misunderstanding was due to the Chinese authorities granting the same concession to two nations. It is alleged that the arrangement enables Great Britain to proceed with the construction of the railroad siding, but if Russia's concession proves to be earlier than that of Great Britain the latter is to acknowledge the claims of Russia to the concession.

The foreign office, however, has no information tending to confirm the announcement of concessions having been made, and the officials are rather inclined to doubt that such an arrangement has been arrived at. They say the original concession was given up by Russia.

Afternoon papers welcome the latest news concerning the awkward situation of affairs at Tien Tsin as indicating the probability of the forces of both Russia and Great Britain being saved by the intervention of a disinterested power.

Lord George Hamilton, secretary for India, replying to a question in the house of commons, said that no other disturbances are anticipated at Tien Tsin, and that the sentries remained in their previous positions with strict orders not to assume the aggressive, pending the settlement of the immediate cause of the difficulty by the military authorities on the spot. Lord George Hamilton assured Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett that no instructions had been sent to the British officer at Tien Tsin, either by the government or by Sir Ernest Satow, not to resist seizure by the Russians of land required for the siding.

RUSSIA WILL NOT RECEDE.

French Official Thinks England Is Up Against It.

Paris, March 19.—At a cabinet council the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, related the progress of the peace negotiations at Peking. He said the latest dispatches made no mention of the incidents reported as occurring at Tien Tsin.

"Russia will not recede from the position she has taken in the matter of the railroad siding at Tien Tsin; of that you can be assured." This statement was made by a high official of the foreign office. Continuing, the official said: "Russia will not advance and will act slowly, but having taken up the position she now occupies she will only be moved therefrom by force. England has been unsuccessful in her effort to secure the aid of other powers to attack Russia's position regarding Manchuria, and is not likely to begin hostilities unsupported in the present instance. It is hardly possible that England will go to war over a railroad siding, with the Transvaal question still pending. I expect to see England yield. As to the statement that French soldiers attacked an English officer, we do not believe it to be true, for, although the alleged attack occurred yesterday, we have not yet had any advices on the subject."

Russia on Her Dignity.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—In reply to a question a competent official said: "It is not true that Russia has yielded to the representations of any of the powers and modified her demands respecting Manchuria, because no representations have been made. Every tentative attempt to address the Russian government on the subject of our pour parlors with China has been categorically declined. Russia is a great power and has the right to hold negotiations with any other government, and no other power has the right to interfere. Tentatives made in a friendly spirit have received a friendly answer. But, plainly stated, Russia can not receive inquiries regarding the above." The official admitted that Great Britain is the nation rebuffed.

Greed of Nations.

Washington, March 19.—It is feared here that the negotiations at Peking respecting indemnities may fall owing to the greed of individual nations. Mr. Rockhill, special United States commissioner, who has been in close communication by cable with the state department, has nothing but discouraging reports to make of this important branch of the negotiations. It appears that the ministers can not agree upon any uniform basis of indemnity, some powers demanding enormous sums.

Pichon to Leave Peking.

Paris, March 19.—A dispatch from Peking says that M. Pichon, French minister to China, will leave Peking the beginning of April. He will be succeeded in China by M. Beau, who will start for Peking April 7.

French Forces to Be Reduced.

Paris, March 19.—A dispatch from Peking says the state of the Chinese negotiations will soon permit the reduction of the French forces by about 10,000 men, who will be repatriated.

Ohio Man Killed Himself.

Leesburg, Fla., March 19.—F. H. Carpenter, retired Ohio capitalist, suicided at his winter home here by placing a shotgun under his chin and pulling the trigger. He had been suffering from heart disease, and it is thought his mind was impaired.

MUTINIED IN A MINE.

Convicts of Kansas Penitentiary Have Guards at Their Mercy.

DEMANDS MADE BY DESPERATE MEN.

Want Promise of Better Food or Will Kill the Guards—Have Killed Mules to Live on During the Struggle. Serious Trouble Threatened.

Leavenworth, March 19.—In the Kansas state penitentiary coal mine at Lansing, 284 prisoners who went down into the mine Monday morning have mutinied and are holding 15 guards as hostages. They refuse to let the guards come to the surface until Warden Tomlinson promises to give them better food, and threaten to kill the guards if their demands are not complied with. The mines are run by the worst class of prisoners in the penitentiary, and among those who have mutinied are 20 life prisoners. Warden Tomlinson has refused to grant the request of the convicts. Many complaints have been made at the penitentiary by the prisoners because of the grade of food furnished them, and to this dissatisfaction has been added allegations of maltreatment. The convicts refuse to permit additional guards to enter the mine. They have killed the mules used in the mine and are living on the meat. Most of the prisoners are desperate men, and serious trouble may result before they are compelled to surrender.

There is wild excitement in Lansing among the families of the guards, and it is feared some of the guards will be killed by the mutineers.

All the penitentiary shoe and manufacturing shops are closed and the convicts are held closely in their cells. This is in order to have the guards in readiness for emergency to handle convicts should they attempt to rush from the mine to escape.

Thirty Call For Parker.

Chicago, March 19.—Leander D. Parker, general superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company 18 years, died at his home in Evanston, after a long illness. Mr. Parker resigned his position with the Postal Telegraph company the first of the year owing to ill health. Mr. Parker had charge of the construction of the western lines of the Postal when that company was extending its system throughout the west. He entered the telegraph service in 1855, and the first three years of the civil war served as a military operator. Mr. Parker was born in Canada in 1837.

Shipload of Spirits Stranded.

St. Johns, N. F., March 19.—The French barkentine Aquitaine, from Bayonne for St. Pierre with a cargo of wines, spirits and general supplies for the French bank fishing fleet, is ashore off Cape La Hune, on the south coast of Newfoundland, 23 miles east of Burgeo. Her crew escaped. The ship is badly damaged and the coast people are looting her. Customs officials are being hurried to the scene. The cargo is unusually valuable, and exciting times are expected in the endeavor to recover the property salvaged.

Convention of Weather Prophets.

Washington, March 19.—Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, under authority of Secretary Wilson, has called a convention of weather bureau officials at Milwaukee, Aug. 27 to 29. The invitation was extended by the city through the Business Men's association and the Milwaukee Press club. Buffalo, Chattanooga, Denver and San Francisco were also competing for the honor. About 100 officials will be present, including Secretary Wilson, Chief Moore and experts from the West Indies.

Struck It Rich.

Mansfield, O., March 19.—Specimens received from new lead and zinc territory in Montevau county, Mo., show that the property now owned by four Ohio men will be a bonanza. These men are Hon. F. M. Marriott of Delaware, and W. S. Cappeller, Monroe Harman and H. P. Sewell of this city. They have 240 acres, under which has been discovered the richest lode of lead and zinc ore of the Missouri fields. Local capitalists are organizing to mine 40 acres and lease claims.

In Case of a Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., March 19.—George Hartlein, secretary of District No. 9 of the United Mine Workers' union, said that if a general tie-up is ordered two strike calls will be issued simultaneously, one to miners and another to engineers, pumpmen and firemen. In this event, he says, the mines will flood of their own account unless officials operate the machinery.

Iron Works In Ruins.

St. Louis, March 19.—Fire destroyed the St. Louis steam forge and iron works. Loss $100,000.

RAILWAY INTERESTS.

Gould Planning a Gigantic System. Along Other Lines.

New York, March 19.—It is claimed that George J. Gould has for several days been in conference at his Lake-wood home with officers of western roads with a view to combining all of the Gould roads in the west and southwest into one huge company, with a capitalization of $250,000,000 or $300,000,000, and with a total of about 13,000 miles of track.

The chief roads concerned in the proposed deal are Missouri Pacific; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railway; St. Louis Southwestern railway; Texas and Pacific railway; International and Great Northern railroad, and Wabash railway. Practically all of the stock of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railroad company is already owned by the Missouri Pacific. When seen at his home Mr. Gould refused to confirm or deny the report.

Denied by Hill.

New York, March 19.—President James J. Hill of the Great Northern railroad, who is in this city, denies positively that he is seeking control of the Burlington system.

Chicago Entertaining Wu.

Chicago, March 19.—Wu Ting Fang, Chinese minister at Washington, delivered the convocation address of the University of Chicago at the Studebaker institute. He visited the art institute and spent some time wandering through the big galleries and halls of the institution, commenting and asking questions of his escort. Previous to visiting the Art institute Minister Wu received a delegation of newspaper men, and for 15 minutes interviewed them very successfully. He refused to make any comments on the political situation in his own country, either returning evasive answers or smilingly ignoring the questions asked. Minister Wu was the guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Union league club by President Harper of the University of Chicago. In the evening he attended the university congregation dinner at the Quadrangle club.

News From the North.

Victoria, B. C., March 19.—Northern papers received by the steamer Amur, which has arrived from Skagway, contain news of the first thaw of the season at Dawson and increased activity in mining all through the Yukon. A private letter received in Dawson contains the information that Premier Laurier will visit that city during the coming summer. A Dawson paper says that as soon as his resignation becomes effective Commissioner Ogilvie will visit Southern California and Mexico, and that he has been asked to accept another government position.

Satisfactorily Settled.

Louisville, March 19.—In police court the conspiracy charges against W. Greer Campbell, E. G. Bennett and Wilbur Beatty, Denver capitalists, were dismissed on motion of the prosecution. A suit for $50,000 damages, for alleged blackmail in connection with the deal, filed against the Denver capitalists by Judge T. F. Hargis of Louisville, is also withdrawn, all parties saying they have reached a satisfactory conclusion.

Widow of Governor Wallace.

Indianapolis, March 19.—Zerelda G. Wallace, 84, widow of the late Governor Wallace, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Steiner, at Cata-ract, near this city. Mrs. Wallace was the stepmother of General Lew Wallace, the author. She was known throughout the United States because of her connection with Woman's Christian Temperance Union and woman suffrage work. She was born at Millersburg, Ky.

Duel With Knives.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 19.—A. P. Elliott, manager of the Peacock copper mine, and James Melville, another well known mining man, became involved in a quarrel at Daggett and fought a running duel in the streets with knives. REJECT PEACE TERMS

Boers Will Continue Their Struggle Against Great Britain.

BOTHA GAVE BACK THE OLIVE BRANCH

South African War That Has Been Ended So Often of Late Will Now Go on Again—Armistice Gave the Boers a Rest.

London, March 19.—Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, informed the house of commons that General Botha has rejected the terms of peace offered him through Kitchener.

General Botha, Mr. Chamberlain said, had conveyed the information in a letter to General Kitchener, in which he announced that he was not disposed to recommend the terms of peace General Kitchener was instructed to offer him to the earnest consideration of his government. General Botha added that his government and its chief officers entirely agreed with his view. Mr. Chamberlain added: "I propose to lay the papers connected with the negotiations on the table tonight."

As to Status of Transvaal.

Washington, March 19.—The status of the Transvaal and Orange Free State in the eye of the government of the United States probably will be for the first time fixed when a consul general is sent to Pretoria to succeed Adelbert Hay, who has just returned to Washington on leave of absence, but without the purpose to go back to Pretoria. It is said that so far there has been absolutely no official declaration on that point.

All prunes now in the hands of the association, over 4,000,000 pounds, have been purchased outright. The deal has been under way since the meeting in February, when the members of the association authorized the directors to expend not to exceed $200,000 for advertising and otherwise advancing the interests of the combine. The price paid was less than association figures.

The late Pat McDonald, whose death at Frankfort occurred Thursday, was an associate of the late Major Henry T. Stanton for several years on the old Frankfort Yeoman. McDonald was a splendid fellow, with many warm friends among the newspaper men of Kentucky.

The case of Griffiths at Cincinnati was a fine object lesson for the country. But it must not be imagined that all this rascality was the result of his prolonged retention of office, or that the evil would have been permanently remedied by putting another rascal in his place. Neither must we suppose that the evil in the case resulted from the want of good laws. The only trouble was—the laws were not enforced. Griffiths was loose, because others were lax.

No stronger tribute has been paid to ex-President Harrison than this spoken by ex-President Cleveland:

Not one of our countrymen should for a moment fail to realize the services which have been performed in their behalf by the distinguished dead. In high public office he was guided by patriotism and devotion to duty, often at the sacrifice of temporary popularity, and in private station, his influence and example were always in the direction of decency and good citizenship. Such a career and the incidents related to it should leave a deep and useful impression upon every section of our national life.

The India census just completed shows that the late famine cost over 1,100,000 lives, or more than five times the population of the two Boer republics. "This famine," says the New York Journal, "was purely a matter of money. There was plenty of food in the country, but the people died because they did not have the means to buy it, and the British Government had other uses for its own. One-tenth of the money spent in bringing 200,000 reluctant Boers into the empire would have prevented over five times their number of British subjects from going out of it by the road to death."

"The Cuban amendment does not seem to me to be in accord with the solemnly declared and frequently reiterated policy of the republic relative to Cuba. Besides this, it practically assumes grave responsibilities which do not exist. By this ultimatum we in effect assume a protectorate over Cuba. This is a new departure in the National policy, a power which we have never before undertaken to exercise, and which it has been insisted is entirely out of the question in connection with the Philippines. I do not believe a protectorate can be predicated upon the Monroe doctrine, nor do I believe we can constitutionally exercise such a power. If we can, we can exercise it wherever the Monroe doctrine applies, and it is conceded that it applies to the whole continent. Are we to exercise protectorates in time over all South American governments as occasion may arise? The assumption of such vast responsibilities no one who loves our institutions can contemplate without serious misgivings.

The above sounds like it came from some Democratic editor or orator, but it didn't. Congressman Littlefield, a Maine Republican, makes this strong criticism of his party's Cuban policy. But what do the Hanna-McKinley crowd of empire promoters care for the Constitution? The most alarming thing in connection with all this disregard of the Constitution is that the greater portion of the Republican party, blinded by partisanship, applaud and endorse every move made by the Hanna-McKinley crowd.

REACTION AGAINST HIGH TARIFF.

"The reaction against a high tariff," remarks J. W. Bryan in The Commoner, "is manifesting itself in many quarters. Attention has already been called to the criticism of Ex-Attorney General Miller and to Mr. Babcock's bill to put trust products on the free list. Now comes the New York Independent and registers its protest against the tariff duties which are being utilized by the trusts for purposes of extortion. He says:

If these duties are no longer protective, are they in any way injurious to the American people? We think they are, so far as they are abused by combinations that make them serve as instruments to support prices fixed by agreement for the home market. There is evidence that some American manufacturers are selling their goods abroad, as they have sold them in the past, at prices lower than those which they demand, and are enabled by combination to exact, in this country, the American consumer can never be convinced that the business of those who supply his wants ought to be conducted in this way. He feels that the manufacturers, for the encouragement of whom he has supported protective legislation and paid taxes imposed indirectly by that legislation, ought to give him prices as low as those which they give to the foreigner. But the repeal of unnecessary tariff duties will yield little or no relief if the restraint from possible competition from abroad can not be applied. Everybody knows that foreign manufacturers in the iron and steel industry would not now be able to threaten our combinations with imports even if the duties should be repealed to-morrow. The prices which they must have are too high, and the cost of their raw material and labor will prevent any considerable reduction hereafter.

The protectionists have always assured us that competition would regulate prices at home provided the foreigner was excluded. Now we find that the trusts destroy competition at home and raise prices here while they compete with the foreigner in his home market.

Every trust will act as an object lesson to teach the people the injustice of a high tariff.

Adair was driving down the Lexington pike into the city Monday in a phaeton and when near the intersection of Fourth street, the back strap broke, allowing the vehicle to run against the horse, badly frightening the animal, and there would have been a bad runaway and wreck had Mrs. Adair not retained her presence of mind and pulled the horse to one side against the bank. Both shafts were broken in two places and the animal kicked the single tree through the dashboard. Mrs. Adair fortunately escaped without so much as a scratch.

Bourbon News: "About sundown on last Saturday evening, several persons living in the Centreville precinct witnessed a well-formed mirage in the western sky. It is described by those who saw it as being a perfect representation of a small village; a court house was plainly seen, surrounded by an open square, and several buildings were plain enough for their different heights to be seen. It attracted a great deal of attention and the superstitious negroes of the precinct saw in it a warning of the approaching end of the world, and in consequence the service at the colored church on Sunday night was continued far into the night, and the noise made by shouting and lamentations was calculated to scare away even Gabriel himself."

The Dress Goods Congress Convenes

Not a day too early but early enough. We know you want to see what the spring of 1901 has to offer. If you buy now you will be glad when the bright April days find you prepared—no hurry or worry but leisure for enjoyment of the flowers and sunshine. Counters and shelves are groaning under the accumulating loads of new goods. Intelligent dress goods buying cannot be done if our stock is not consulted. This descriptive word of some.

$1.65 Rainetta For $1.25.

This splendid offering comes just when dozens of women are thinking of a new walking skirt for early spring. Made of thoroughly scoured wool that can be easily brushed—with the "body" that will hang correctly and hold its shape. It's a rain defier. We took all the jobber hand after his orders were filled and can save you a third of the price. Black only.

ETAMINE

Is an open, mesh material—as different as can be from an iron frame grenadine, which it most resembles. Is that statement clear? This new old friend has had various charming treatments and is one of the high class novelties of the season. Black only. 50c., 75c.

MELANGE

In gray and rose color, both beautiful shades. This is a slightly corded goods, like a very fine poplin. All wool of course and full 45 inches wide. A good deal for the money. 59c. a yard.

Remember, we'll quit selling when we quit excelling.

Isaac Watson, an Employee at Pulley Works, May Die of Injuries Received Tuesday Afternoon.

No one else was near and it is not known just how the accident occurred, but in some way a portion of the machinery caught the pulley, causing it to fly to pieces and a portion of it struck Mr. Watson on the forehead, fracturing his skull.

The injured man was later removed to his home where he was lingering this morning in an unconscious condition. A Cincinnati surgeon may come up today, and the operation of trephining the skull may be performed in hopes of saving the young man's life.
